

Pacific Northern Environmental Announces Shawn Ball as President of WasteXpress and CCS Divisions

LONGVIEW, WA – September 23, 2024 – Pacific Northern Environmental (PNE), a leading provider of environmental and industrial services based in the Pacific Northwest, announced the appointment of Shawn Ball as President of the WasteXpress and CCS divisions. In this role, Ball will lead the company’s businesses focused on transportation and disposal of waste, industrial cleaning, emergency response, and other related industrial and environmental services.

“We are thrilled to welcome Shawn to the PNE family,” said Spencer Partridge, CEO of PNE. “Shawn’s extensive background growing environmental services businesses will be an asset to his role as President of WasteXpress and CCS, and empower all of PNE as we seek to continue our growth trajectory and deliver exceptional solutions for our customers.”

Ball has spent over 23 years building and leading companies in the environmental services industry. As the Senior Vice President of ACTenviro, he helped lead the company through a period of significant revenue growth. The business was acquired in 2023 by Republic Services, and during a transitional period Ball supported the expansion of Republic’s environmental services division across multiple regions. Prior to ACTenviro, Ball held senior roles at PSC/Stericycle and Ingenium, where he led strategic expansions and operational improvements.

“I am honored to join PNE at this exciting time,” said Ball. “The WasteXpress and CCS divisions have a strong reputation for customer service, and I look forward to collaborating with the team here to drive further growth.”

Since 1989, WasteXpress has provided environmentally safe waste disposal and waste management services to dozens of Fortune 500 companies and public and private sector businesses in the Pacific Northwest.
